The James W. Crowley Dairy Leadership award recognizes 4-H youth members who display excellence and outstanding leadership in dairy projects throughout Wisconsin. The award committee, composed of dairy industry leaders and professionals, is pleased to name the award in honor and memory of James W. Crowley, longtime Extension Dairy Specialist and strong supporter of dairy youth project work. Thank you to all the 4-H staff, volunteers, and mentors who encouraged, nominated, and supported youth to apply this year!

The award committee were extremely impressed with the engagement, professionalism, and experience displayed by youth during a virtual interview process. The top three youth awardees, Sarah Hagenow, Grace Haase and Natalie Roe, each received $500 for their continuation of dairy education. The first-place awardee, Natalie Roe, received a $5,000 scholarship to attend the Department Animal and Dairy Science at UW-Madison.

4-H Clubs Ringing Bells for the Salvation Army Continues To Be A Community Service Option

by MATTHEW C CALVERT, Wisconsin Positive Youth Development Institute Director

There have been some questions about whether 4-H clubs and groups selecting bell ringing for the Salvation Army would be in conflict with our policy which states we are focused on education and not advancing a particular religion (you can find this information pasted below). In this case, the Salvation Army states as its goal to meet human needs without discrimination. 4-H members choosing to participate in bell-ringing as a community service option would be allowable within our current policy.

These are challenging questions to navigate, as they involve many factors to consider, including member choice vs. requirements, clear roles in fundraising for other organizations, and non-discrimination policies of partners. Please continue to reach out for guidance as you run into questions about policy interpretation and about practices that may hinder an inclusive program environment.

This is also an opportunity to emphasize service-learning and the alignment of club activities with our shared goals.

- Youth Voice and Leadership: Are youth leaders involved in identifying issues they want to address and planning the response?
- Supportive Relationships: Do service-learning opportunities create opportunities for building ongoing relationships with other youth and adults in the community as well as creating opportunities for bonding within the group?
- Post-Secondary Pathways: How are youth learning about career and lifelong service opportunities?
- Expanding Access: How do service opportunities create opportunities for others to participate in 4-H? How do we remove barriers to all youth benefitting from service-learning opportunities?

Policy: Religion and Wisconsin 4-H

As a program of the University of Wisconsin – Madison, Wisconsin 4-H prohibits discrimination in all its programs and activities on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, religion, age, disability, political beliefs, and marital or family status. As a result, 4-H programs are focused on education and must not advance a particular religion. Explicitly or implicitly requiring religion or religious practices as a condition for participation in 4-H club meetings creates a barrier for participation and is prohibited.

More Community Service Options -- Food Drives, Lawn Raking, Card Writing and More!

The ADRC just released information about their annual food drive and NBC 15's Share Your Holidays is coming up fast. What will you and your 4-H club do for your community – participate in an already organized service event or create your own. Nursing homes and senior centers are looking for letter writers and there are plenty of leaves out there this fall. A team of youth gathering as a small group (with permission) could create that event. Information about the Columbia County ADRC food drive is at the end of this email.

Extension Program Guidance & Approval Forms For Face-to-Face Gatherings

Whenever people are gathering in the name of 4-H, there needs to be an approved plan. 4-H members and leaders may be allowed to hold face-to-face gatherings in pods of 10 people or less and up to 50, but only if pods of 10 or less are arranged for. To accomplish this and receive approval, the following steps MUST be taken BEFORE the gathering occurs. Please request an Extension Program Guidance and Approval form from Pat Wagner and complete and return to her. Wagner will then submit the form to the workflow for approval by the UW-Madison Division of Extension 4-H Positive Youth Development Program. Once approval is received, the gathering may proceed. Following the gathering, a contact log must be submitted with names of all who were in attendance. If you have questions, feel free to contact Pat Wagner at 608-742-9685 -- pat.wagner@wisc.edu.
